R. B. COCHRANE TO MAKE VISIT TO PASS OCTOBER 1932

Keep the date in your mind, October 31st! It is the date on which Dr. R. B. Cochrane, prominent United Church official, comes west, especially to visit the Pass. He will be here only one day. He stands out as one of the most important men to visit the Pass in recent years. A speaker of power, a man with a vital message, he will be worth any sacrifice you may have to make to hear him. There will be a Rally of the Pass towns at one cent. His address will have interest for a larger group than the members and adherents of the United Church of Canada. Do not miss this opportunity to hear a most outstanding speaker.

DEPRESSION COST

Those provokingly cheery souls who maintain that the depression is good for us all, surely do not check closely on the many tragedies traceable to existing conditions. The depression may have its uses in bringing out the mental and physical resistance to trouble of human beings just as war proves a certain capacity for suffering. But why should suffering and trouble, for which the majority of people are not responsible, be so "good for us." Life would be a meaningless and pitiful affair, if every depression and every war were accepted meekly and unquestioningly as just another cross to bear. There is no virtue in suffering, if it is not merited, and the consequences of the past few years have been visited on many who were doing their best, and who had no remotest responsibility for contributory causes. Possibly those who have had least responsibility have been the ones to suffer most seriously.

This period of depression has taken a serious toll of lives, amongst those who have been caught in a net from which they could see no way out. Perhaps because Dr. Warnock was well known and greatly respected in the West, he stands out as a tragic example of one who paid with his life for circumstances which he could not combat. Every day there are reports of similar tragedies, and it speaks volumes for the stamina of human beings that there are no more.

It is said that the depression is lifting and that times will slowly return to a higher level. It is to be hoped that if this is true, people will not too quickly forget what the past three years have cost in lives, in sanity, in orderly normal standards of living. It is only through a prevention of a similar depression, that the present can ever be reckoned as "good for us."—Kimberley Courier.

BATHING BEAUTY NOW SUPERB COMEDienne

Marie Prevost, although she is no longer the sylph-like bathing beauty of Mack Sennett comedies, is still one of the most clever comedienne in the film world. "Ladies of Leisure" proved that Marie's talents were admirably suited to the talkies, and later vehicles, such as "Paid," "A Gentleman's Fate" and "The Good Bad Girl," have strengthened her popularity with the fans. For the balance of

TRIO REUNITED ON TALKING FILM LOT

Three close friends were united after a period of more than two years when Basil Dean assembled his cast for the production of "Escape," film adaptation of the Galsworthy play which is the feature for British Picture booster nights on Tuesday and Wednesday next at Cole's theatre. Dean, Mabel Poulton and David Hawthorne were the trio. Previously they had been associated in the production of "The Constant Nymph," from the novel by Margaret Kennedy. Dean adapted the story, Miss Poulton played the feminine lead and Hawthorne was featured in an important role.

All are prominent figures in stage and film fields during the past few years. They consider "Escape" their most important picture work to date.

NOTES FOR HOIS NOW "MAKER OF MEN"

A check of Jack Holt's career for the last two years reveals him as an actor of many characterizations. First known to screen fans as a Western star in many outdoor thrillers.

Recent roles for Columbia have found him playing an astute detective who solves mystifying murders in "The Donovan Affair" and a typical business man in "Father and Son." In "Flight" he was an aviator, and a hardened jailor in a prison colony in "Hell's Island." A racketeer in "The Squealer" and a police inspector in "Subway Express" were two other notable portrayals. From commander of a zeppelin in "Dirigible" he went deep-sea diving in "Fifty Fathoms Deep" and was again a detective in "A Dangerous Affair."

In "Maker of Men," his newest Columbia picture showing Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the Orpheum theatre, he is seen as a popular athletic coach of a western university.

London's bill for police protection in the last year was over $43,000,000.

The week at the Orpheum with a matinee Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, she will be seen teamed with Mae Clarke and Jean Harlow in "Three Wise Girls," with Walter Byron, Jameson Thomas and Andy Devine in leading male roles.

This lady says her curtains look like new

A letter from a lady in Quebec tells about the wonderful success she has had in restoring her old living room curtains. "They were so grey and dull looking they made the whole room look shabby. Yet they were perfectly good and I couldn't afford new ones. A neighbor told me about a new kind of tints called Diamond Tints, made by the makers of Diamond Dyes. I know the splendid quality of Diamond Dyes—have seen them often for dyeing dark garments. My neighbor explained that Diamond Tints are for lighter shades and they need no boiling. I got a package of them and gave my curtains a good rinse in the tint water. When my daughter came home she asked where I got my new curtains! They surely do look as crisp and fresh as when brand new and they cheer up the whole room."

Construction Work Shows Improvement

According To Monthly Review Of Bank Of Nova Scotia

The Bank of Nova Scotia in its monthly review sees general improvement in building and construction throughout Canada. Improvement was slightly better than the expected seasonal rise and gave reason for hope it might indicate a permanent amelioration.

The review said economic conditions in Canada could not become healthy until the gulf between wholesale farm produce prices and prices of manufactured goods was more nearly bridged.

Plan to Establish Orchard Saskatchewan Undertakes Ambitious Fruit Growing Campaign

Hon. J. F. Bryant, K.C., who as Saskatchewan's Minister of Public Works is in charge of the Institutional Farms, has been promoting the plan of fruit growing in the Province. He issued this statement to the press in connection with the proposed fruit-growing campaign and the establishment of orchards in the Institutional Farms of the Provincial Government.

When Mr. J. E. Park was chosen as provincial gardener he had had in view the matter of promoting the growth of fruit in the Province of Saskatchewan through the Institutional Farms of the province, and he secured a man who is capable of carrying out this scheme. We are fortunate, indeed, in securing Mr. Park in view of his long experience in connection with fruit growing in Western Canada. He is a graduate of Manitoba Agricultural College, where he specialized in horticulture, with five years practical experience in charge of the fruit orchards at the Manitoba College, doing experimental work in fruit and ornamental plants, lecturing on fruit growing to the diploma class of the Manitoba Agricultural College.

This work was followed by six months training including plant breeding, with special attention to fruit work at the graduate school of the University of Minnesota.

Following this Mr. Park put in five years as assistant superintendent in charge of horticultural work at the Experimental Farm at Rosthern where he was in charge of all experiments in horticulture and is familiar with fruit growing in all its branches in the prairie provinces.

The centre of the Saskatchewan Government fruit-growing campaign will be the nurseries on the Parliament Buildings grounds at Regina, where a large acreage is available and where in the first instance some ten acres will be set aside for the nursery as a fruit growing area. This area will be surrounded at once with a caragana hedge with the trees planted in single rows, and they are intended to grow tall for a shelter belt. Spruce trees and willow cuttings will also be planted in this area in order to get a quick shelter belt. The willows will then be removed when the spruce and fir, and spruce have grown up. A proper shelter belt is the most important feature in connection with a fruit orchard on the prairies.

The orchard space will be divided into sections by rows of caragana planted every twenty feet acrosswise in the orchard. Dividing each two hundred foot row will be a row of spruce trees planted at eight feet in the row. The rows of fruit trees for general fruiting will be planted fifteen feet apart and at least eight feet apart in the row. Between the two sixteen feet rows will be planted rows of small fruit to be held in reserve. These will consist of black, white and red currants, which will grow from cuttings, and gooseberries which are grown by budding up on gooseberry bush and cutting off the cuttings from the five plant. In addition to this, rows of plum, apple and cherry will be planted out. We expect to get the cuttings of gooseberries, currants and raspberries this fall and either plant them outside or heel them in.

This is the general type of the plan for the orchards and the orchards of ten acres will be laid out at the Institutional Farm at North Battleford and at the Institutional Farm in connection with the Government Hospital, Weyburn, the Regina Gaol, and the Moose Mountain Gaol.

In the nursery grounds at Regina it is intended this fall to plant pits of plums, cherries and plum cherry hybrids, and apple and cherry trees. In addition to this the seeds of hardy Siberian crabapples and native plums will be planted for root stock on which to bud the plums, apples and crabapples with buds from the named varieties. We are intending to get pits and buds of named varieties and plant them in order that fruit may be raised from the seedlings. We intend getting as many named varieties of apples, crabapples and plums as possible to test. All these will be budded stock and will be planted in the nursery in the spring. From these we get the buds which are used in grafting on native plums and Siberian Crabapple trees after the nursery is under way whenever we can find good bud wood on these named varieties. We intend getting an experienced propagator accustomed to this kind of work on the prairies in order to get the supply of named varieties on hand at the Government nursery at Regina which can be distributed to the other Institutional Farms. The propagation work being done only at the Regina Nursery.

At each of the five Institutional Farms this fall we intend to plant seeds from named varieties and native plum and Siberian crabapple for root stock. The seedlings from named varieties are going to be planted out and permitted to fruit as in this way we may get new and original stock for budding purposes. All the seedlings of the apples, crabapples and all named varieties will be tested out for fruit bearing at the Institutional Farm and budded stock will come from Regina.

The planting of plum pits and apple seeds do not produce true trees to the stock from which they come but often develops new and hardy varieties. Every seedling apple, crabapple or plum is a new variety. Those coming from good varieties with hardy native blood in their veins become hardy and are the best for selection. The hardy varieties will fruit at the point where grown from seed, being raised from native stock. If they produce good fruit and in this way often the fruit line may be

ALMOST FLAT ON HER BACK

Asking back! Will it ever stop? She's nearly desperate. Lydia E. Fishman's Vegetable Compound has relieved her constipation for over 30 years.

It may be moved two or three hundred miles north. This has proven the case at the Morden Experimental Farm which is the chief horticultural station in Western Canada. Here one hundred and twenty-five acres of land are devoted to horticultural experiments and over three hundred kinds of plums are growing; also the standard varieties of apples including the new 'Mellie's' apple which is being perfected at that point. Some eleven years ago they top worked these varieties of plums on wild native plum stock and did the same with the apples and have produced wonderful results.

The pioneer in this work in the Morden district was the late Mr. Stevenson who for nearly forty years has been engaged in horticultural work on his farm in one season. In this way many of the varieties produced in districts further south have become acclimated and grow to perfection in different parts of the province of Saskatchewan.

This work is being undertaken on the Institutional Farms of Saskatchewan in order to promote the general growth of fruit in the province. Individual efforts have shown that it can be grown in practically any part of the province, but owing to lack of knowledge on the subject very few have undertaken it. The Institutional Farms are situated in different climatic belts, in different soil belts, and valuable experience can be obtained in each area for those who are interested in fruit growing in the immediate neighborhood. We purpose therefore by planting orchards at each of the Institutional Farms to supply the fruit necessary at these farms, particularly for the patients of the Mental Hospitals. It is planned to use the Institutional Farms as demonstration farms in order that the farmers from the surrounding country may visit them to see what can be done in the way of raising fruit in their neighborhood. It is also intended to carry on experimental work at the different points to prove the varieties best suited for the different localities and also to try to develop hardy plants in the different varieties by experimental work and by budding on native plum, cherry and wild root stocks.

This work will be carried on as practically as additional space to the province as it is planned to get the pits from the plum and cherry trees and apple and crabapple seeds from the different experimental farms in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. We extend a public invitation to fruit growing in Saskatchewan with success to give as a public contribution such pits, cherry pits, apple and crabapple seeds as they have to spare to the nearest Institutional Farm, and we would be pleased if they would name the variety of seed in different parcels of such seed as they can spare to Dr. J. W. McNeill, Mental Hospital, North Battleford; Dr. A. D. Campbell, Mental Hospital, Weyburn; Peter Forsythe, Warden, Provincial Gaol, Prince Albert; J. E. Park, Provincial Landscape Gardener, Parliament Buildings, Regina; Colonel Sharpe, Warden, Provincial Gaol, Moose Mountain. We would like the donors of these seeds and pits to forward them to the Institutional Farm nearest to the place where they are raised.

The work in connection with the orchards will not occasion additional expense because at most of the Institutional Farms there are graduates of the Agricultural Colleges to take charge, and there is plenty of patient labor at the Mental Hospitals, and jail labor at the jails.

The Saskatchewan Government has between four and five thousand acres of land in the Institutional Farms with experienced men in charge of each farm and we are prepared to try out anything in the fruit line for any of the nurseries of experimental farms when they have developed some new variety and desire to have it tested in different parts of the province. We intend as soon as our orchards are established and our experimental work is commenced to reciprocate by sending to the nurseries of the Experimental Farms any new varieties which we may develop.

We believe that in starting these orchards and this experimental work as demonstration work that we are taking a forward step in fruit growing which will eventually result in the growth of fruit of different types in the farms in all parts of Saskatchewan. We are therefore asking the Experimental Farms to give us what surplus stock they have of different types, and to place us on the list for their surplus stock from year to year. We are also getting in touch with Dr. Paterson, Professor of Horticulture at the University of Saskatchewan, who has a very large number of seedlings of different kinds on his grounds and who has one of the most extensive fruit breeding programmes under way in Western Canada. Dr. Paterson, however, has not enough room at his place for the planting out of the different types of seedlings in order to try them out for fruiting, and we are inviting his co-operation and will endeavor to assist in his work by planting and recording the results of the experiments at our different Institutional Farms.

We are also intending to cultivate grapes as these have been grown with success in different parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan. This year a grape vine in the garden of the Government gardener, planted by the former Landscape Gardener, Mr. George Watt, bore nearly twelve quarts of ripe grapes. These grapes were sweet and gave to eat in addition to being excellent for jam and for making wine. The seeds of all these grapes that ripened this year have been kept and are being planted in the nursery for the purpose of propagating this type of grape. From Regina they will in due course be distributed to the Institutional Farms.

Pen Has Become Famous

Used By Noted People To Sign Official Register At Regina. Royalty and world renowned statesmen have added a glamour to a plain ordinary pen, the possession of Saskatchewan's sergeant-at-arms, Larry Lett, that it has assumed a value much greater than its original cost.

This pen was used by their Excellencies The Earl and Countess of Beasborough to sign the official register at the legislative buildings, Regina.

It has previously been used by the Prince of Wales, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin and Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill for the same purpose.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON RUNS UPSTAIRS AT 92

THE CHRISTIAN IN THE FAMILY

Golden Text: "I will walk with my house with a perfect heart." Psalm 101:1, 2.
Lesson: Genesis 50:17-21; Luke 2:40-52; 10:38-42.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 101:1-7.

Explanations and Comments

The Development of the Boy Jesus, Luke 2:40-52—At a Child Jesus grew, became strong and wise, and the grace of God was upon Him. It is a very beautiful and precious truth that the Christ had a human, progressive childhood.

The Belshazzar House With Its Two Types Of Womanhood, Luke 10:38-42.—Jesus was a frequent Guest of Lazarus, Martha and Mary in their home at Bethany. One day Lazarus, Mary and Martha were with Him and heard His word, while Martha was troubled about such serving. Jesus was worried, and she felt that she was being unjustly treated in having all the work to do alone. In reply she said to Jesus: "Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? But I have said that she help me." Despite the impatience of her words Jesus answered tenderly: "Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things; but one thing is needful: Moffatt's translation of the last clause reads, 'one thing alone is necessary.' Both sisters were wont to sit at Jesus' feet and listen to His words; both helped to prepare the meal; but Mary returned to Jesus when what was prepared was adequate as she thought; but Martha would to serve in more pretentious meal—one of several dishes—in order better to honor the Lord. Jesus alone is necessary. Both sisters, then, were to warn Martha against herself. He did not wish his disciples to be so much concerned with the outward as she was at His feet and learn: "For Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her." Not yours in bustling about, Martha, but hers in the good part of ministering; not to my alone, but my spirit's need for sympathy and understanding. It will not be taken from her now by my blindness, but by my spirit's need for sympathy and understanding. It will not be a character that she will never lose it."

Alberta Products Are Increasing In Value

Figures Show Revenue From Farms

Greatly increased this year their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness. Eventually they start the "bellyache" which is the first sign of trouble. They start getting rid of every day of all waste matter from the system. New, healthy blood goes coursing through the veins. And almost immediately they feel young, energetic and happy. In a word, they've got that famous "Kruschen Feeling."

Most people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness. Eventually they start the "bellyache" which is the first sign of trouble. They start getting rid of every day of all waste matter from the system. New, healthy blood goes coursing through the veins. And almost immediately they feel young, energetic and happy. In a word, they've got that famous "Kruschen Feeling."

The 1932 revenue is expected to exceed $12,000,000, compared with $148,000,000 in 1931. Alberta's farm animal production for 1932 will total $20,000,000, it is estimated. The dairy industry is expected to realize $12,000,000 while poultry and poultry products may realize $8,000,000. Miscellaneous animal products is believed, will return $300,000. These figures added to $116,000,000, set as the value of this year's field crops, results in the estimated $152,000,000 total.

Royal Toast On Warship

In Drunk Standing When Prince Is On Board

When the Prince of Wales is with the Fleet he uses the living quarters of the Admiral, right at the stern of the flagship. The Admiral commands the fleet, and the Captain of the ship. At night generally the Prince entertains half a dozen guests at dinner—mostly officers of his own ship—besides the Admiral and the Captain. At the end of dinner, he rises and says: "Gentlemen, the king." This is the only occasion on board a warship when the royal toast is drunk standing.

Napoleon Used To Take It With Him On Campaigns

Part of the emperor's library, for many years in the possession of an Austrian prince, soon is to be added to the French museum at Malmesbury. This collection of Napoleonic relics was at first bequeathed by the Empress Marie-Louise and only recently passed on to the French government. A number of maps are included in the new exhibit.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

CHICKEN M.C.D.R.D.

Cut a frying size chicken in quarters and fry in olive oil with a cup finely chopped onion and raw Irish potatoes cut in dice. Cook until the meat of the chicken is white. Add 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper and 1/2 cup hot water. Season with salt and pepper to taste, and cook very gently until the chicken and potatoes are thoroughly done.

CREAMED TURNIPS

Small yellow or white turnips may be used for this recipe. It will appeal to the hostess because it is as easy to prepare as it is good to eat.

Boil six large turnips until done. Add one cup sweet milk, one-half cup butter, salt and pepper, and one teaspoon sugar. Mash with a potato masher until smooth. Serve very hot.

Usually Behind

The charge that was being heard in court was one of dangerous driving. "So you were speeding, which means you were driving to the common danger," said the magistrate to the man in the dock. "How many times have you been before me?" The man in the dock shrugged his shoulders. "Never, your worship," he replied. "I've often tried to pass you on the road, but my car will only do about sixty miles an hour."

"You have been ringing for ten minutes! Can't you see there is no body at home."—En Route Half Time, Mrs. Gotherg.

Daughter's Pride In Active Father

"I feel in duty bound," writes Mrs. J. W. W. to express gratitude for the marvelous results my father has obtained from Kruschen Salts. They should really be called "Miracles." He is ninety-two years old, and is as fit as a doddle. He can nip about and run up and down stairs. He is a marvel really. It is he is always alert, and never feels slack. He always tells them the reason, "my regular daily dose of Kruschen Salts every morning." We always recommend Kruschen Salts to all our friends. To my idea, no family should be without it."

Most people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need for internal cleanliness. Eventually they start the "bellyache" which is the first sign of trouble. They start getting rid of every day of all waste matter from the system. New, healthy blood goes coursing through the veins. And almost immediately they feel young, energetic and happy. In a word, they've got that famous "Kruschen Feeling."

Royal Toast On Warship

In Drunk Standing When Prince Is On Board

When the Prince of Wales is with the Fleet he uses the living quarters of the Admiral, right at the stern of the flagship. The Admiral commands the fleet, and the Captain of the ship. At night generally the Prince entertains half a dozen guests at dinner—mostly officers of his own ship—besides the Admiral and the Captain. At the end of dinner, he rises and says: "Gentlemen, the king." This is the only occasion on board a warship when the royal toast is drunk standing.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

CHICKEN M.C.D.R.D.

Cut a frying size chicken in quarters and fry in olive oil with a cup finely chopped onion and raw Irish potatoes cut in dice. Cook until the meat of the chicken is white. Add 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper and 1/2 cup hot water. Season with salt and pepper to taste, and cook very gently until the chicken and potatoes are thoroughly done.

CREAMED TURNIPS

Small yellow or white turnips may be used for this recipe. It will appeal to the hostess because it is as easy to prepare as it is good to eat.

Boil six large turnips until done. Add one cup sweet milk, one-half cup butter, salt and pepper, and one teaspoon sugar. Mash with a potato masher until smooth. Serve very hot.

Usually Behind

The charge that was being heard in court was one of dangerous driving. "So you were speeding, which means you were driving to the common danger," said the magistrate to the man in the dock. "How many times have you been before me?" The man in the dock shrugged his shoulders. "Never, your worship," he replied. "I've often tried to pass you on the road, but my car will only do about sixty miles an hour."

She found Blaise's cool, measured, elderly-brotherly kindness unendurable, and she exhausted herself beating continually against the rock of his determination, without producing any effect other than to make his manner even more austere, less friendly than it had been before.

Then when she recognized her total inability to move him to any sort of responsive emotion, and that her beauty—which was undeniable—made no more impression upon him than if he had been blind, she resorted to the old, painfully familiar weapons of tears and fits of temper, in the course of which she would upbraid him bitterly, pouring forth streams of reproaches which more often than not culminated in an attack of hysteria. All of which Blaise bore with a curious, stolid self-control. It seemed as though the Tormarin temper had been exorcised, as if that fierce storm of anger provoked by Madame de Varigny's taunts, and which had so nearly resulted in a tragedy, had shocked Blaise into realization of the terrible latent possibilities of the family failing and the absolute necessity for an iron self-government.

For weeks, he supported Nesta's petty gibes and ebullitions of temper with unflinching patience, and it was only when, trading on his unaccustomed forbearance, she ventured too far, that she was brought very suddenly to understand that there was a limit beyond which she might not go.

"I know why you no longer love me," she told him at last, on an occasion when she had been vainly endeavouring, by every feminine blandishment and wile of which she was mistress, to evoke from him some sign of an awakening "tendresse."

"I know!"

She nodded her dark head significantly, while pin-points of jealous anger flickered in her long, narrow eyes, black as midnight.

"Then, if you know," replied Tormarin patiently, "it is surely most foolish of you to keep asking why I do not. Why can't you content yourself with things as they are, Nesta? We can only try to make the best of a bad job. You don't help me much in the matter."

"I don't want to help you," she retorted viciously. "I want you to love me. And you won't because of that washed-out-looking, carry-head woman who is living with Lady Lattimer. And she's in love with you, too! No! I won't be quiet! Oh!—her voice rising hysterically—"You think I don't notice things, but I do. I do, I tell you!"

She sprang from the couch, where she had been lying indolently amid a heap of cushions, and crossed the room to his side.

"Do you hear me?" she cried violently, shaking him by the arm. "You think I'm a blind fool! But I'm not! I'm not! I've seen that Peterson woman look at you like a cat looking through the bars of a cage."

Suddenly she felt Blaise's hand clapped against her face, stemming the torrent of vulgar recrimination and abuse that poured from them. He held it there quite gently, so as not to hurt her, but immovably, and with that purpose of heart that he wished to say in rebellious silence.

"Listen to me," he said quietly. "It is quite true what you say—that I love Jean Peterson, and that she loves me. But we have given up our love, and with it our hope of happiness in this world, for you. In return, you will give up something for us. You will give up the infinite pleasure you appear to derive from vilifying and humiliating a woman who is far much above you as the heavens are above the earth, whose conception of love is as fine and pure as yours is mean and commonplace and jealous. You will never again speak of Miss Peterson with anything but respect, nor will you ever again refer to the love which you now know for a fact exists between us. Your lips soil such love as ours. If you do, if you disobey my commands in either of these respects, you go out of my house that same day. And you don't return."

He released her and had the satisfaction, for once, of perceiving that she believed he meant what he said. Presumably she came to the conclusion that, in the circumstances, discretion was the better part of valour, for she made no attempt to challenge his determination in the matter.

At the same time, unknown to him, she compelled Jean to pay for the silence enforced upon her at home. With a species of venom, absurdly childish in its manifestation, she assayed to excite Jean's envy by constantly enlarging to her upon the subject of Blaise's perfection of character, drawing entirely imaginary descriptions of the attention he paid her and of his constant solicitude for her welfare, and vaunting her happiness at being his wife.

"I am so proud to have won so fine and splendid a husband," she would declare fervently. "Would you not feel the same, Miss Peterson, if you were me?"

And Jean would make answer, outwardly unmoved:

"Indeed I should. You ought to be a very happy woman, Mrs. Tormarin." The quiet compass of her words variably opposed to these great-like attacks annoyed Nesta intensely. Endowed with all the petty jealousy of a small nature, she herself, had the situation been reversed, would have found this pin-prick kind of warfare insupportable, and it made her furious that her best thought-out and most spiteful efforts failed to goad Jean into any expression of either anger or distress. The "cold Englishwoman's" armour of indifference and reserve seemed to be impervious to no matter what point-tipped dart she loosed against her.

Nesta felt that, as the woman in possession, she was missing half the satisfaction in life by reason of her inability to triumph openly over the other woman—the woman without the gate. Finally, at the end of her resources of innuendo and allusion, she tried the effect of open warfare.

She had driven over to Charnwood to call and, as Claire was away, spending the afternoon with friends, Jean had performed to entertain her undesired visitor alone. It was just as she was preparing to take her departure that Nesta launched her attack.

"You look so ill, Miss Peterson," she remarked commiseratingly. "So pale and worn! It does not suit you. I am sure, for of course you must have been very pretty at one time for my husband to have wished to marry you."

Jean stared at her without reply. The outrageous speech almost took her breath away by its sheer, impudent bravado.

"There!" Nesta feigned dismay. "Now I have offended you! And I so want you to be good friends! But you, of course—quickly—"It is difficult for you to feel kindly towards the wife of Blaise. I can understand that. I suppose—her head a little tilted to one side like that of an enquiring robin and her eyes fastened on the other's white face with a nervous, gimlet gaze that filled Jean with helpless rage—"I suppose you loved him very much?"

Jean felt the blood rush into her cheeks and caught a responsive gleam of satisfaction in the other's half-closed eyes.

"I think that is hardly a subject which can be discussed between us," she said, with a supreme effort at self-control.

And then to her unbought thankfulness, Tucker threw open the door and announced that Mrs. Tormarin's car was waiting.

This open declaration of hostility on Nesta's part gave Jean food for reflection. Briefly she recounted the incident to Claire, adding:

"It means I must not go to Staple again. If she intends to adopt that attitude, it would make a situation which is already quite difficult enough hopelessly impossible."

The two girls were pacing up and down the terrace at Charnwood together when Jean indicated the consequences of Nesta's visit, and Claire, sensing the pain in her friend's voice, pressed her arm sympathetically. But she said nothing. What was there to say? Within herself, she felt that Jean's determination to eschew the Tormarin ménage altogether was the only wise one.

"Poor Blaise!" pursued Jean, a slight tremor in her voice. "He has the hardest part to bear. She must make life hideously difficult for him."

"Yes, he is looking fagged and strained. Horrid little beast!" she added with unusual vehemence. "Why on earth could he have stayed dead?"

Jean laughed joyfully.

"Why indeed?—Only she never really died, you see."

"Jean—Claire's hand crept further along the other's arm and the kind fingers sought and clasped Jean's own—"If you knew how miserable I am about you! It makes me feel wicked—disgustingly selfish and wicked—to be so happy myself when you have so much to bear."

There were tears in her voice, and Jean squeezed her hand reassuringly.

"My dear," she said earnestly, "you have black years if anyone ever had! If a woman ever deserved her happiness at last, you do. . . I suppose we all get our share of trouble in this world," she went on thoughtfully. "I remember the first time I ever met Blaise—that day at Montauk, you know—he said that Destiny with her snuffers, came to most of us sooner or later and snuffed out our light of happiness. Well—rather dearly—"I suppose it's my turn now and she's come to me. That's all."

A little wind blew up from the valley, chill and complaining. Autumn had the world at her mercy now, and a grey mist was rising from the sodden fields, soaked by the continual rains of the preceding fortnight.

Claire shivered.

"Let's go in," she said. "It's growing too cold to stay out any longer. Besides, it's depressing. Grey skies, bare branches—Oh! How I detest the autumn!"

They turned and retraced their steps to the house. As they entered by way of the front door, they caught a glimpse of the postman making his way briskly down the drive. A solitary letter lay upon the hall table, addressed to Jean in a rather florid copper-plate style of writing.

"A bill, I suppose!" she commented indifferently.

She picked it up carelessly, carrying it unopened to her room. Nor did she open it immediately upon arrival.

He that has so many causes of joy, and so great, is very much in love with sorrow and peevishness, who loses all these pleasures, and chooses to sit down on his little handful of thorns. Enjoy the blessings of this day if God sends them; and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly. This day is only ours, we are dead to yesterday and not yet born to tomorrow.

—Jeremy Taylor.

Oh, ask not now, How shall I bear The burden of tomorrow? Sufficient for today, its care, Its evil and its sorrow; God imparteth by the way Strength sufficient for the day.

Arrested Thought

A Scot applied for a raise, stating that he was thinking of getting married. At the end of the week he found a fairly substantial raise in his pay envelope. Some time later he met the manager on the stairs.

"I suppose you've settled down to married life now?" asked the manager.

"I'm not married," replied the Scot.

"Not married?" echoed the manager in surprise, "but didn't you apply for a raise because you were thinking of getting married?"

"Oh, aye," came the reply, "but I stopped thinking."

When at last she slit the envelope she found that it was no tradesman's bill, as she had imagined, but a letter from Glyn Peterson's family solicitor, announcing, in the stiff phraseology without which no lawyer seems able to express himself, the sudden death of her father.

Jean sat down abruptly, her legs seeming all at once to give way under her, she could not grasp it—could not realize that the witty, charming personality which, after all, in spite of Peterson's lack of the more conventional paternal attributes, had meant a great deal to her, had been swept without warning out of her life forever.

Glyn Peterson had, it seemed, died very suddenly, in a remote corner of Africa without his restless wanderings had led him, and it had been some weeks before the news of his death had reached his lawyer, who had immediately communicated it to Jean.

By his will, everything he possessed, except for a certain sum set aside to cover a few legacies to old and valued servants, was left to Jean, and with the quaint whimsicality which was characteristic of him he had particularly mentioned: "Beirne, the House Of Dreams-Come-True."

The little phrase, with its suggestion of joyous consummation, stabbed her with a sharp thrill of pain. Greeting her, as it did, at the moment when all her hopes of happiness were being trampled beneath the iron heel of hostile destiny, it seemed to add a last touch of irony to the bitterness of the burden she had to bear.

The House of Dreams-Come-True! In the solitude and silence of her room Jean laughed out loud at the mockery of it! But her breath caught in her throat, sobbingly, and then quite suddenly the merciful, healing tears began to fall, and, laying her head down on her arms, she cried unrestrainedly.

GENEROUS GENTLEMEN

The editorial desk is a funny place. To it comes nearly all the gossip of the neighborhood, much of which is pure fiction, but it all has to be rehashed and segregated and only the best of the whole ever finds its way into the columns of the newspaper.

Last night there came a letter from a gentleman in New York telling us that "a group of fine Canadian gentlemen would welcome the opportunity of subscribing to a legalized lottery conducted for charity."

He claims that 10,000 questionnaires had been circulated and the preponderance had voted in favor of the lotteries in Canada. He claims a movement has been started in the United States for the same thing. He says the American organization will assist in bringing to Canada this wonderful philanthropic thing known as the "sweepstake."

The Moose lodge is in the throes of a scandal suit over its great "Mooseheart" dance lottery staged about four months ago. It seems that Uncle Sam is being a little inquisitive regarding the conduct of this lottery and United States Senator J. J. Davis and other prominent Americans face grand jury indictments.

That's how much the United States thinks of lotteries, and Austin G. Ring, of New York, who is so interested in the welfare of Canada, would have us believe those drawings were conducted for the benefit of something else besides those people conducting them.

The great Irish sweepstakes of last summer which ran into 2,000,000 dollars for the promoters, paid only $167,000 to the hospital. Those charitably inclined souls who were silly enough to suppose the money they paid for lottery tickets would go to the hospital would probably "bite" again on the next one.

All of which reminds us that there is one born every minute and none of them die young.

It's these silly expenditures that are keeping the people broke part of the time. Over two million dollars spent on horse racing in B.C., $18,000,000 spent on booze, and $5,000,000 spent on other forms of gambling, aggregates the stupendous sum of $25,000,000 annually that could be used to better advantage.—Cranbrook Daily Tribune.

"PAID IN FULL"

"Third notice." Every editor has received them. The postmaster sends them to the editor. The postmaster is not to blame. For instance, there is a man by the name of—we'll say, Tim Short, who sends us three notices to stop his paper. He did not want it any longer. We wondered what was the matter. Upon investigating our subscription list, we found that Tim was short six dollars. He never paid a cent, yet he stopped his paper as a matter of economy—to us. A few evenings or so later we stepped into a church and Tim's melodious voice rang out clear in the song, "Jesus Paid It All." We may have been mistaken, but his earnestness impressed us. The next day we sent him a receipt in full, begging his pardon for not knowing that he had made an assignment of his liabilities to the Lord.

A teacher was giving his class a lecture on charity. "Willie," he said, "If I saw a boy beating a donkey, and stopped him from doing so, what virtue should I be showing?"

Willie (promptly): "Brotherly love."

SHOULD HAVE ADVERTISED

We have a friend who not long ago had occasion to dispose of a new car range, which only a few months before had cost him in excess of $1000. Friends told him that he would get very little for his range, mentioning sums ranging from $10 to $25. But the friend knew better than that. He was not going to advertise in the papers—rather was he going to send the range to an auctioneer. Arrangements were made and in due course of time the range was sold. After deducting cartage costs, auctioneer's fees, etc., the friend netted exactly 90 cents for the range.—Financial Post.

FOLLOW SUGGESTIONS
GIVEN BELOW TO MAKE YOUR BRIDGE 100 PER CENT

1. Pick up your cards as dealt. You will be ready to bid ahead of the others.
2. If your hand is rotten, mention it. It will guide your partner in his bid and play.
3. If your partner bids first, don't hesitate to raise. He has to play it, or a never hurry. Try several cards of a trick until you are sure which one you prefer.

5. Occasionally ask what are trumps. It will show you are interested in the game.

6. Don't show lack of interest when you are dummy. Help your partner out with suggestions.

7. Feel free to criticize your partner. He will do much better as a result.

8. Always trump your partner's tricks. Never take a chance.

9. Talk about other subjects during the game. It makes for good fellowship.

10. Don't try to remember all the rules. It's too confusing.
11. If it is a money game, always stop when you are ahead. Folks will remember you.

12. Disagree with established rules and conventions. People know you are a person of independent mind.

13. Always explain your plays, particularly when you set. It shows your card knowledge.

14. Eat chocolate cream or other adhesive candy while playing. It keeps the cards from skidding.

Salie: "Oh, yes, Auntie. A man offered me a big plate full of money, and I said 'No, thank you.'"

A Saskatchewan man says that the chickens, in gratitude for a buggy ride, laid several eggs on the seat and thus afforded him a free breakfast. Down in Nova Scotia, the chickens leave powder puffs and compacts on the seat—and you don't get any breakfast at all.

Paul Miller, aged thirty-six years, returned veteran of the world war, whose tragic, but accidental death occurred on Sunday morning last, was buried on Tuesday afternoon in the Fishburn cemetery, with some three or four hundred people attending. This was, perhaps, the most impressive funeral ever held in that district. Deceased was a very popular young man in the wide circle of friends he moved among. He was a good friend, a good citizen and a good neighbor.

There's a lot of talk around town about using Charley Miner's pair of pants as an economic barometer. Several citizens have been planning to follow his test, but have not yet been able to find a cent to sit on. Others think Charley is lucky to be in danger of exposure at only one point. One man claims that his garments were so thin all over his person, that if a leaf flutters from a hedge as he passes by, he feels a distinct chill.—High River Times.

We read in the first chapter of Genesis that man was given dominion over the fish of the sea and over all the earth, and yet not one of those forms of life that man was to take dominion over knows there is a depression on, and their ruler is the only being who is worried. While the birds and beasts eat of the plenty of the land, man goes hungry in the midst of plenty.—Goodrich Star.

William Bagley, who escaped from Okalla jail, near Vancouver, last March, and who successfully evaded a widespread man-hunt that brought in all of his companions of the jail break, was arrested at Oakland, California, on September 30th. He was going under the name of Walter Jennings and was one of four rounded up by Oakland police in a search for an outlaw crew known to be in possession of a machine gun, stolen from a government cut.

The machine gun was found. It was the one used in the Nobel mail robbery, which netted the bandits $56,000 in 1930.

Local and General Items

Dr. Elliot, of Corbin, was a Blairmore visitor yesterday.

Why is it that if business has gone where everyone says it has, some of us freeze assets don't thaw out?

Frank Gott, 76-year-old trapper and game warden, alleged to have shot Game Guardian Elbert Farey, has been captured near Lilloet, B.C.

Tom Myer, a Fernie miner, was seriously injured on Sunday when a large boulder rolled on him, crushing his chest and puncturing one lung.

William Russ, plant chief of the Alberta Government Tel-phones at Lethbridge, has been promoted to the position of district manager at Grande Prairie.

Mike and William Kurjak, brothers, were found guilty by a Saskatoon jury of the murder of Constable V. Ralls, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, on July 5th.

A Nelson man was ordered to pay $400 for a Great Dane dog he had killed belonging to a neighbor. The man claimed that the dog had been annoying his chickens.

"Showers for C. Leman School Teacher," says a headline in the Coleman Journal. We have one every Saturday night—but we don't boast about it.—Drumheller Mail.

It's wonderful how so many people are moving up from high to higher. Alfred E. Smith is now an editor. We can remember when he was only a state governor.—Col. Hugh Clark.

Rev. Dr. Jabez S. Lint, a native of Newfound and outsting United church minister of the Maritimes, died at Montague, P.E.I. on August the 6th, aged sixty years.

R. C. M. P. Superintendent R. L. Cadiz, in charge of the Banff division of the force since it took over the A.P.P., has been transferred to Halifax. He will be succeeded at Banff by Inspector W. V. M. Bruce, of White Horse, Y.C.

Premier R. B. Bennett has become so hit up over the success of our volume two, "What We Know About Women," that he has decided to beat it all hollow by publishing a book on "What I've Accomplished as Prime Minister." We hope Dick will send us a copy.

The Wisconsin councilman who, angered by the sermon, tried to get back his dollar contribution, should try to emulate the Earl of Roslyn, who went to church one Sunday and heard a stranger preach against gambling. The regular pastor, knowing the earl to be an inveterate gambler, hoped he would not take offence. "Not at all," said the earl. "It's a damned poor sermon that does not hit me somewhere."

Goat's milk will flow freely in Georgetown, capital of British Guiana, during the second Industrial Exhibition of the British Guiana Workers' League, which will be held October 20 to 22. His Excellency the Governor and Lady Denham will be patrons of the show. In addition to goat-milking contests, the exhibition will include displays of cows, coconuts, coconuts, palms, crotons, ferns rare orchids and the handicraft of British Guiana's mixed population of Oriental, Anglo-Saxon, Latin and West Indian descent.

The wife of J. L. Patton passed away at the home near Lundbreck last Thursday, after a short illness. The funeral was held at Cowley's Saturday. Mrs. Patton is a charter member of Key City Lodge, I.O.O.F. and in view of this the lodge sent two delegates to attend the funeral in the persons of M. W. Donaldson and W. J. Madden. These two, in conjunction with some lodge members and friends, in that locality, attend to the funeral arrangements. Before leaving at Lundbreck, Mr. and Mrs. Patton resided several years near Cranbrook where they carried on a dairy business at Patton's Lake. They came here about the time the Crows' Nest railway was completed.—Cranbrook Courier.

Albert Davis, aged fifty years, of Corbin, died in the Fernie hospital on Tuesday of last week. The remains were laid to rest at Michel.

A village girl cloped in her father's clothes. The next day the local paper came out with an account of the elopement, headed, "Flee in Father's Pants."

Burns & Co., Limited, have sold their Calgary retail stores to the Sterling Food Markets Limited, a western Canadian concern with head offices in Vancouver.

When a Saskatchewan car driver was halted before the bank for an infringement of the traffic regulations, the judge asked the driver if his car was under complete control at the time. The reply was: "Yes, my wife was sitting in the rear seat."

John Lundie, traveller for the McDonald Jam Company, of Nelson, was drowned near Nelson recently. Lundie was formerly employed with the Trites-Wood Co. at Fernie. He was a past master of the Masonic Order and a member of N.1 on Emancipation of the I.O.O.F.

The Villain Advocate says that "After all, farmers play a very minor part in all this unpteen dollars worth of crop. They merely plough and harrow and s.w good seed and keep it clean till harvest. Then they cut the grain, pay the stockers and the three-bling bill. And after that their part is to make it snappy in opening the gates, so the collectors can get to the bins without delay."

Mr. Bert Huffman was in town on Monday wearing a new sweater that was the envy of all the Bann Brum-bills in town who had the good fortune to see it. After listening to many expressions of appreciation, Bert in his usual quiet manner explained that the sweater was a complete Alberta production. He raised the mother sheep that produced the lamb, on which the wool was grown. He sheared the lamb and washed the wool, which was carded in his own home, where it was spun into yarn and the sweater, of which he was justly proud, was knitted in his own home.—Strathmore Standard.

A certain candidate in the coming United States elections, who is apparently a strong prohibition supporter, is painting a "wet" and horrible picture of conditions in Calgary under government control. The candidate is citing specific examples of instances that actually occurred in the old prohibition days. While the United States liquor question may not be of any great importance to us, Alberta people represent being falsely accused and misrepresented by American election candidates. Our system of government control is not perfect, but it is a big improvement over the old prohibition days.—Bassano Mail.

FRANK HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Reg. Campbell, of Lethbridge, is visiting at Mrs. Chester Morrison's. Elmer Garrison is still out of town, being relieved at the post office by Charles Chisak.

Sad news awaited Mrs. Sherring, of Frank, on arrival in Ireland to visit her mother and relatives, finding her mother had passed away four days before her arrival.

The death of Mrs. Milada Vejprava occurred at the Blairmore hospital on Sunday evening, following a prolonged illness. Mrs. Vejprava was predeceased by her husband upwards of a year and a half ago, and is survived by three sons and one daughter, Mrs. James Croak, residing in Nova Scotia. Anthony and Frank Vejprava, of Blairmore and Charles, of Frank, are the sons. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, the remains being laid to rest in the Blairmore cemetery, following a service held at the home in Frank.

Miss Mary Mouschik, who has been the guest of Miss May Parsons, returned to Fernie on Sunday.

Mr. C. Petrie returned Sunday from a week's vacation at Mirror Lake, B. C., Mrs. Petrie remaining for a few weeks as guest of Mrs. N. Driver.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

The twelfth annual conference of the Pincher Creek and Rocky Mountain constituency of the Women's Institute was held in Cowley on September the 29th. Mrs. Blanchard, of Burmis, constituency convenor; Mrs. Campbell, district director; Mrs. Montgomery, provincial president, and Mrs. Murphy, constituency secretary, occupied the platform when the meeting was called to order at 2:30 p.m. The day was ideal, and the attendance good, there being around fifty women present. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada," followed by the club women's creed. The address of welcome, given by Mrs. Robert Littleton, was replied to by Mrs. Lynch Staunton. The secretaries' reports and financial statements were read and adopted. The reports of the four branch institutes, Ashvale, Cowley, Lundbreck and Beaver Mines, which constituted the conference body, were read by Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Snyder, Miss Leila Bent and Mrs. Ballantyne. Two comic recitations, given by Mrs. Littleton, were followed with a splendid report by Mrs. Blanchard on W. I. work. The reports of the standing committees, which held marked interest, were read by the following: agriculture, Mrs. Murphy; Canadianization, Mrs. Lynch-Staunton; education and better schools, Mrs. Hammond; emigration, Mrs. Bent; legislation, Mrs. Hamilton; child welfare and public health, Mrs. Morrison; colonization, Mrs. Connelly; league of nations, Mrs. Eddy; household economies, Mrs. Almond; publicity, Mrs. McDowell. Mrs. Montgomery rendered two very pleasing vocal solos followed with an address by Mrs. Campbell, when she ably spoke of W. I. work during a period of hard times, when she said: "Get together and be neighborly, and just keep on keeping 'em on!" She stressed various kinds of work whereby the institutes may carry on in a thrifty way. "Home environment plays an important part in good education, and good citizenship," she continued. "Hold fast to the good and get better yet," said Mrs. Campbell, after which the crowd rose and sang those two old favorites: "Killarney" and "Old Black Joe." Next in order was an address by Mrs. Montgomery, when she ably spoke of W. I. work in a convincing manner, telling of the progress of the institutes, saying that they are now on a firmer foundation than they were four years ago, when she first took the office of provincial president. She spoke of the interesting work done by the institutes in foreign countries. "Unity of heart," she said, "makes distance nearer and strangers friends." She continued with saying that if we are to have prosperity, we must co-operate. The conference adjourned, to meet in Lundbreck next year, when Mrs. Blanchard thanked all who made this session a success. "God Save the King," with Mrs. Ed. Grove as piano accompanist. A dainty and appetizing luncheon was served by the ladies of the Cowley institute, who were hostesses on this occasion.

The agricultural scholarship of the Cowley school fair was won by Betty Holmes, of Beaver Mines, and John Kubasek, of Willow Valley. These two ardent and faithful workers are entitled to the short course of one week, given free by the agriculture schools of Alberta, which they will take at Olds next summer.

The Sun Is Shining.

As the writer sits down before his typewriter to type out this article, bright sunshine, typical of these beautiful Indian summer days on the prairies, is streaming through the window, while there is that invigorating tang in the air which leads one to throw back their head and draw in a lungful. The sun is shining, and in these days when we are all too prone to dwell on the dark side of things, it is well to remember that the sun is still there, shining away as strong as ever, the only difficulty being the clouds that intervene to obscure our vision.

The sun still shines, not only in the actual meaning of the words in the physical world, but in the sense that there is much of brightness and warmth in life itself. Admittedly there are still difficulties ahead for many people, there are very acute problems to be solved, not only by individuals, but by communities and governments. These difficulties must be overcome, and solutions for these problems found, but there is not a very large ray of sunshine indeed in the knowledge that never before in the history of mankind were so many people, including the keenest brains in all countries, devoting their time, their intellects, their energies, to searching out and testing the efficiency of the remedies to be applied. The world knows there is something out of joint somewhere and there is surely comfort and satisfaction in the knowledge that people are not just letting things drift in the hope that something will turn up to bring about a betterment, but, on the contrary, are tackling the problem from all angles with a view to effecting that betterment and to preventing a recurrence of present difficulties.

Some people, who talk as if they believed the sun had been finally and forever blotted out, keep on circulating pessimistic views to the effect that the moral character of people is breaking down, that they are losing their initiative, that, instead of retaining confidence in themselves and a pride in their own achievements, they are willing to become the mere hirelings of the state. In the prevailing atmosphere of gloom, in which such people surround themselves, they are seeing up a generation of loafers and criminals. Is this a true picture? If it is, how can one account for such a highly desirable state of things, as reported in the Toronto Globe, that during the recent Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto nearly a million and a half people passed through its gates, and in that time not one arrest on a major charge was made. As the Globe says this is a remarkable record.

The Globe says further that there were but two fires, and these of no great consequence; further evidence of the commonsense care exercised by dwellers in what for the time-being was a great city exposed to the dangers besetting all densely populated urban areas. There is no evidence in those reports that Canadian people are losing their normal grip, inclined to disregard the law and to engage in reckless, irresponsible acts.

The sun is shining. The spirit of helpfulness which rose to great heights during the tragic years of the war still lives in the hearts and minds of our people. It was displayed last year when people in the older sections of Canada shipped trainloads of supplies to assist and comfort their fellow-citizens in the drought-afflicted areas of Saskatchewan. It is being displayed this year within the confines of that Province by a great rallying together of people who "have" in order that they may give to those who, again this year, unfortunately, "have not." It reminds one of the war days when Red Cross branches, Patriotic Fund committees, and other organizations with like objects were organized and active in even the smallest hamlet and rural district, to now read of the organization of voluntary rural relief committees in areas where there are crops, albeit not very profitable, to assist the people in the smaller area where, again this year, there have been no crops.

The sun is shining in the hearts of those who are building up and supporting these voluntary relief committees, and the sun will be shining in the homes to which such aid is extended.

And the clouds are growing thinner and lifting. Every now and then a ray of sun flickers through because it has never ceased shining. The clouds will finally break and disappear, and the sun burst forth in all its splendour and life-giving warmth. Despite all our discouragements, let us keep our courage, just as we are, as a people, clinging steadfastly to our old-time concepts of honesty, morality, industry and respect for the laws and institutions of our country.

French Taking To Tea

Customs Reports Show Imports Doubled In Two Years. The French in long noted for its wines, are taking to tea. Customs returns show that in the last two years imports of tea have doubled. Moreover, the leaves for the beverage, which formerly came through England, now are shipped direct from India and Ceylon to Marcellines, Havre and Bordeaux. Experts say the change is the result of the importation of better tea, and the teaching of how to get best results in using the hard Paris water in tea making.

Always At Work

We do not get rid of accidents by protesting; they ought not to happen. Let us remember that those laws of Nature by which we sometimes suffer, are always at work, and for our advantage. The ocean waves carry a thousand ships at the very time they engulf one.

The case is reported of a small boy who says his prayers in his sleep. We are reminded of the man who said Grace in his sleep, his wife's name being Amelia.

All Her Children Were Troubled With Diarrhoea

Mrs. J. J. Bickert, R.R. 1, Enderby, B.C., writes:— "Last Summer all my children were troubled with diarrhoea, and when I did not know what to do, a friend told me to give them Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I got a bottle, and after a couple of doses you should have seen the change. The children were soon well again, and I am very thankful to your wonderful remedy. It is the only one that cures so easily and quickly."

Australian Pleased With Radio System

It Is Nationally Owned and Working Well Says Bruce

Australia's nationally-owned radio system, now controlled by a commission of five, is working well, Mr. Stanley M. Bruce, states at Ottawa after the Imperial Conference. The leader of the Australian delegation expressed interest in the national broadcasting commission to be appointed to supervise Canadian radio. Mr. Bruce stressed importance of selecting qualified commissioners and said the entire Australian supervisory body had been chosen because of cultural background, business efficiency and general sympathy with important public movements. "Be sure you do not let politics play a part in the selection," he advised.

"I do not think any of the Australian commission members were ever mixed up in politics," Mr. Bruce said. Great interest and considerable satisfaction had been expressed with regard to the Australian commission, which acts in an advisory capacity and as a court of final appeal, but does not do the executive work. The commissioners are part-time workers and receive a remuneration of $400 each annually, with $500 for the chairman.

Law Bans Shooting Ducks At Churchill

Port Still Under Construction and No Firearms Allowed

While sportsmen in northern Manitoba banged away at the mallards and teal as they flew south, the hunters of Churchill had to sit idly by and watch the birds enjoy the peaceful quietude of the closed season. Churchill is still "under construction" and the law says that no firearms are allowed in the camp.

There were hundreds of ducks right in camp. They fed on the grain that scatters from box cars and found choice morsels of vegetation in the sloughs around the camp. They were quite tame, having been fed for weeks by the workmen.

Trappers who arrived from the west coast stated that ducks and geese flew from the sloughs in thousands a few miles east.

The ducks in this district are chiefly pintails and mallards, with a few teal. To the north and east and west there are large numbers of Pacific eiders. They are protected the year round, so the Eskimos will not run short of food.

Prefers North Country

Woman Very Eager To Get Back To Alaska

It's nothing to drive forty miles to a dance in the north country, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh of Iditarod, Alaska, who has been visiting her children at Vancouver.

"The dances are the big social event up north," said Mrs. Marsh. "I've never missed one of them since going up there twenty years ago."

Mrs. Marsh says she never thinks of the cold in the Arctic country. Winter is coming on now, but she is eager to be back in the land where the ground is covered with ice and snow most of the year.

After several years at Wrangell, Mrs. Marsh went to Fairbanks by train and then 500 miles by dog sled and afoot over the lofty Rainy Pass to McGrath at the head of navigation on the mighty Kuukuk River. For thirteen years she has been living at or near McGrath. She looks after the men's laundry and keeps a store.

Had Dual Personality

Amazing Story About British Officer

As an officer in the British army during the world war, he was stripped of his rank, degraded before the men he had commanded and sentenced by court-martial to be shot for cowardice.

As a private in the French army, going through the worst fighting around Verdun, he was promoted on the field for courage and decorated afterwards by Marshal Foch, who described him as "the bravest man I have ever known."

That is the amazing story of a dual personality which has been revealed for the first time by French government department.

This coward-hero, an Englishman by birth, was 19 when the war broke out. He was working in France, and hurried home to join an English regiment.

Shortly after his arrival on the French front he was involved in an affair resulting in his being charged and convicted of cowardice. On the night fixed for the execution the man, who was known as Potter, managed to escape, and was hidden for some while by a French woman.

The hue and cry for him eventually died down, but apparently driven by remorse, he joined the foreign legion, claiming to be an Alsatian. He gave his name as "Henry Mayer." Because he spoke perfect French he was able to get away with it.

"Mayer" won the rank of captain, was wounded seven times, and has been mentioned numerous times for conspicuous bravery. Recently his real identity was discovered by the French police, but it is hoped that he will be shown mercy by his own government in view of the extraordinary circumstances.

Treaty Still Holds

In order to preserve the city of Syracuse from reverting to the Onondaga Indians, the state of New York gives members of the tribe 16 pounds of salt every year to keep up terms of a treaty made in 1795.

Wood Regains World's Speedboat Record

American Pilot Averaged over 134 Miles An Hour

Gar Wood regained the world's speedboat record by sending his "Miss America" catapulting twice over a measured mile on the St. Clair River at Algonac, Mich., at an average speed of 124.91 statute miles an hour. The former record, 110.75 miles an hour, was made on Loch Lomond, Scotland, July 18 last, by Kaye Don, British speedboat pilot, who tried unsuccessfully to wrest the "Harmsworth" trophy from Wood.

Wood, after the record-breaking run, said "Miss America's" four 12-cylinder engines had not been wide open in the effort and he thought the big mahogany-hulled thunderbolt could go faster. "How much faster, I can't say," he said. "The motors were making 2,500 revolutions per minute. Their limit, with safety, is 2,700 revolutions per minute."

Did Not Heed Warning

Eight Calgary Residents Partially Blind in Recent Eclipse

Eight Calgary citizens have received medical attention for varying degrees of blindness as result of watching the eclipse of the sun by the moon August 31, without the aid of darkened glasses. It was shown in inquiries made to eye specialists.

One woman is almost totally blind in one eye while her other eye is slightly affected. Others suffered severe strain and were partially blind. "Whether the affected persons will completely recover will not be known until treatment is further advanced. Practically all will be receiving attention for three or four months."

Found Their Own Market

Price Offered Did Not Suit Onion Growers Of Brittany

When growers of onions in the vicinity of Roscoff, Brittany, could not get the price desired for the yields of their small farms last season, they formed a syndicate, chartered a small sailing vessel, and shipped 60 tons of onions, and sailed for Canada, carrying long strings of the onions on their backs they went from door to door in Glasgow and other cities peddling their wares. When the cargo had been sold the net profit was much larger than had they sold the vegetables at home.

Exhausted From Asthma. Many who read these words know the terrible drain upon health and strength, which comes in the train of asthmatic troubles. Many do not realize, however, that there is one true remedy which will usually stop this drain. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful check to this enervating ailment. It has a countless record of relief to its credit. It is sold almost everywhere.

Leads In Highway Mileage

Saskatchewan Heads All Provinces With 155,609 Miles

Saskatchewan leads all the provinces of the Dominion in highway mileage, with 155,609 miles open for traffic on December 31, 1931, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Alberta came next with 62,426 miles, and Ontario with 52,119 was in third position. Other provinces, with their mileages, were: Quebec, 35,763; British Columbia, 22,459; Nova Scotia, 14,719; New Brunswick, 11,825; Manitoba, 5,230; and Prince Edward Island, 3,650 miles. The total highway mileage in Canada is 376,094.

Eskimos In Canada

Bureau Of Statistics Report Gives Number As 5,979

There are 5,979 Eskimos in Canada according to census of 1931, and they are located as follows: Yukon, 85; Northwest Territories, 4,970; Quebec, 1,159; Manitoba, 62; Alberta, three. There are 3,116 males and 2,863 females, says a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

It is impossible to say definitely whether the Eskimos have increased or decreased during the past decade, but the impression is they are increasing.

Russians Cannot Send Food Through Mails

Attempts To Relieve Famine Discouraged By Soviets

Henceforth bread, flour, cereals, seeds and other foodstuffs are to be barred from the mails, the post office announced.

It is hoped in this way to stop the voluntary and individual attempts to relieve famine which prevails in many provincial districts.

In the past half-year and more the shortage of food has become so serious throughout large areas of the Soviet Union that desperate methods of obtaining bread have been resorted to. Moscow and, to a lesser degree, other large cities have been jammed with peasants selling their last odds and ends of valuables for bread. The stations swarm with peasants, each staggering under a heavy sack full of bread, bound back to the provinces and the farms.

Much food has also found its way through the mails. Friends and relatives in the capital have endeavored to relieve the suffering of their dear ones by occasional shipments of food. Food has not been plentiful in Moscow, but spite dodging about and discreet speculating has enabled many to accumulate a few loaves extra or a few pounds of meat of some sort.

Now this channel has been plugged. Peasants will henceforth either have to attempt to get aboard already hopelessly overcrowded trains for a personal visit to Moscow—or starve.

Sleep is the great nourisher of infants, and without peaceful sleep the child will not thrive. But already the system, and afterwards the child's rest will be undisturbed. The powders cannot injure the most delicate baby, and there is nothing so effective for restoring the health of a worm-worm infant.

Achieved Her Ambition

Child Crippled With Infantile Paralysis Learned To Swim

An 11-year-old crippled girl returned to her home in Chicago from a camp this summer happy, for she had achieved the ambition of her short lifetime.

Carmela Jaurez, crippled with infantile paralysis since she was five, always had been afraid of the water. This year she learned to swim. She attended a camp near Burlington, Wisconsin, in the company of 200 other crippled children, all of Chicago.

A Remarkable Forest

Trees Four Feet In Diameter Are Only Foot High

What is believed to be the most remarkable forest in the world has been found on the west coast of Africa. Although the trunks of the trees are as much as four feet in diameter, they attain the height of only one foot. No tree bears more than two leaves, which attain a length of six feet and breadth of two feet. The forest covers a tableland six miles in width.

In earlier days on the earth, there were dragon flies that had a wing spread of two feet.

Twelve hundred and fifty American tourists landed in England during a recent weekend.

STATES NOTIFIED GERMANY CANNOT MEET PAYMENT

Washington.—Germany formally notified the United States that she would have to postpone the $7,800,000 payment which fell due under its debt funding agreement, September 30.

In announcing the postponement, Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills disclosed that on application by the German ambassador three months ago, he had waived the 90-day notice of intention required for such action. Provision for waiver on the part of the United States was written into the funding treaty.

Mills said inability to obtain the necessary foreign exchange was the reason given by Germany for the postponement.

The payment due under the mixed claims act of the funding agreement amounts to $24,000,000 and is postponed for two years at 5 per cent. The American army of occupation costs, accounting for the balance, are postponed two and one-half years and carry interest at 3½ per cent.

The secretary said no similar situation has arisen with any of the other debtor nations which altogether must meet payments of $123,500,000 on December 15, unless action is taken to postpone them. The action of Germany makes a total of $9,052,000 in debt payments postponed this year.

Costa Rica, Latvia and Poland have also been notified on September 15 that they would be unable to make payments of $1,292,000 due on December 15.

Inquiry Board At Work

Unfolding Mystery Of Loss Suffered By Manitoba University

Winnipeg, Man.—A board of inquiry is slowly unfolding the mystery which envelops the loss of nearly $1,000,000 in endowment funds of the University of Manitoba.

Less than five hours' investigation by the board revealed that books of the university had not been completely audited in the last eight years, that no report had been tendered as to the condition of investments; that the board of governors had failed to comply with the provisions of the constitution; and that John A. Macrae acted as both chairman of the governors and bursar, contrary to the University act.

Pension Plan For Postmasters

Would Affect Only Those Receiving Under $3,000 Annually

Montreal, Que.—At the opening session of the first annual convention of the Canadian Postmasters' Association, Quebec branch, C. D. Griffith, Estevan, Sask., outlined a superannuation plan for postmasters, of which he was a member, appointed by Hon. Arthur Sauve, Postmaster-General. The plan provided for contributions to annuity funds to be made, half by the government and half by the postmasters. It would affect only those postmasters receiving under $3,000 annually, as those who receive more would come under the civil service pension scheme.

Honor Memory Of Parker

Belleville, Ont.—The body of Sir Gilbert Parker, Canadian-born novelist and statesman, now rests by the side of that of Lady Parker, in a private mausoleum in Belleville cemetery, near East Camden, his birthplace. Representatives of every walk of life paid tribute to the memory of one of Canada's most brilliant sons at the funeral.

Laborers' Pay Raised

Winnipeg, Man.—City council has made its first upward pay revision. A motion to increase wages of common laborers from 40 to 42½ cents an hour was passed by council on a vote of nine to eight.

Riot Reports Denied

Moscow, Russia.—The Soviet government denied reports that 100 Soviet workers were killed in food riots at Sverdlovsk. No riots took place at all, it is said, and the reports were characterized as "more Riga fabrications."

Veterans Want Five-Day Week

Bault Ste. Marie, Ont.—The Ontario command of the Canadian Legion in convention here prepared to forward to the Dominion Government a resolution favoring adoption of a five-day week and a six-hour working day.

Attempt Assassination Of Calcutta Editor

Two Men Commit Suicide After Plan Failed

Calcutta, India.—Two men committed suicide by poison after failing in an attempt to assassinate Sir Alfred Watson, editor of the Statesman, a daily newspaper.

Sir Alfred was shot in both shoulders as he was motoring in the Mall, a large park-like area in the heart of Calcutta. A third member of the group that tried to kill him escaped. Police found the automobile they used abandoned outside the city.

One of the bullets struck his chauffeur, who was seriously wounded, and another grazed the hand of Mrs. Rose Grosse, his secretary.

Frequent threats against the life of Sir Alfred have been made by extremists who objected to the policies of his newspaper. Last August an attempt was made to kill him, but he escaped uninjured.

Not Much Space Left

Small Area In Building Unfilled For Grain Show

Regina, Sask.—Two-thirds of the available space in the new building at the exhibition grounds to house the World's Grain Show of next year has now been taken.

Officials of the exhibition stated that the latest application for space in the building has been received from the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada which body proposes to make up an exhibit of grain in the building at the time of the world's cereal show next year.

The exhibition of the grain commissioners will occupy a space of 1,500 square feet with 100 feet frontage. The main feature of the exhibit will be a demonstration of Canadian export grades and the influence of hard red spring wheat when mixed with the soft wheat of Europe upon the quality size and color of the bread loaf.

Planes Damaged By Storms In North

Aviators Carrying Supplies To Sub-Arctic Have Hard Time

Churchill, Man.—Fierce gales which lashed the rock-bound shores of Hudson Bay, and heavy fogs have made visibility difficult and delayed grain boats bound for this port, played havoc with the three Canadian Airways Junkers' planes, freighting from Eskimo Point to northern outposts, it was learned here.

The "big" heavy freighter, sustained serious damage to the pontoons and another of the Junker' planes may be out of commission for months.

During the past months minor losses have dogged the footsteps of aviators freighting in supplies to lonely settlements in the far-north. Harsh and fears are now entertained that food supplies may be running low at some points.

King Pledges Party To Lower Barriers

Liberal Leader Claims High Tariffs Shift To Taxpayers

Ottawa, Ont.—Declaring the development of Canadian industry and commerce had been thwarted and to a large measure paralyzed by the "excessively high tariffs, enacted by the present administration," Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, pledged his party to continue to seek the promotion of trade by the lowering of tariff barriers.

Speaking on behalf of W. H. Golding, Liberal candidate in the South Huron bye-election which wound up with polling on October 3, Mr. King strongly criticized what he termed attempts of government spokesmen to make the imperial economic conference the issue in the contest.

Protest From Veterans

Calgary, Alberta.—Alberta command of the Canadian Legion is making strong protests to the Dominion Government because a civilian secured the postmaster's post at Canmore, about 60 miles west of Calgary. S. G. Petley, Alberta secretary of the legion, stated an ex-serviceman, W. G. Jones, was given the appointment at first but later was turned down in favor of a civilian.

Threats Cause Anxiety

Tsushima, Manchuria.—There is some anxiety here regarding the fate of 200 Japanese residents in the Manchuria and Heilong districts owing to an uprising of Chinese railway guards who are reported to be planning to kill all the Japanese they encounter.

Canada Unlikely To Enter Speedboat Race

Would Be Difficult To Conform To Harmsworth Trophy Rules

Detroit.—W. D. Edenburg, chairman of the race committee of the Yachtmen's Association of America, stated he doubted whether Canada could put an entry into next year's speedboat race for the Harmsworth trophy and the world's championship.

Mr. Edenburg quoted rules of the association to the effect competing boats must be designed by natives or naturalized subjects of the country from which they are entered and must be constructed wholly and in every respect in that country.

Bert Hawker, of Gravenhurst, Ont., boat designer who drove Miss Betty Carstairs' entry in the Harmsworth in 1930, he said, had established at that time that he was an Englishman. Hawker was mentioned in an announcement from Orillia, Ont., as the designer of a boat which an Orillia syndicate was considering entering in the 1933 race.

Construction of an engine of sufficient power to make its boat a contender in the race would cost the Canadian syndicate about $250,000, Mr. Edenburg estimated.

HURRICANE LOSS AT PORTO RICO IS VERY HEAVY

San Juan, Porto Rico.—More than 200 persons were killed and at least 1,000 were injured in the hurricane which swept across Porto Rico, Governor James Beverley estimated after receiving casualty reports from police authorities.

The governor told an emergency relief committee of San Juan citizens that the total dead and injured probably would be revised upward instead of downward when additional reports had been received.

The committee was organized pending a direct appeal to the United States Red Cross for badly needed assistance.

Starting shortly before midnight, a 120-mile wind lashed San Juan and the hinterland, wrecking buildings, ripping the roofs from houses, blowing down the tree walls, and ruining the valuable citrus fruit and coffee crops.

Loss in the fruit crop alone was estimated at $7,000,000. After a personal inspection of part of the area of devastation, Governor Beverley said the damage to the coffee crop would be even greater.

When the storm left Porto Rico and headed westward toward San Domingo, communications in the island had not been restored. It appeared probable that when all outlying points had been heard from the death toll would be considerably higher.

Work of relief and repair got under way in such confusion that it was impossible to determine how high the number of injured would be, but it was apparent hundreds had been hurt. Thousands of persons were left homeless.

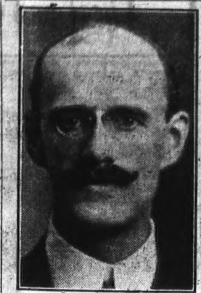

The storm put San Juan's water and light facilities out of commission. A new transmission line must be built before power can be furnished for pumping water six miles from the reservoir. Arrangements for a temporary water supply, imperative for reasons of sanitation, were being rushed.

GLORIA'S HUBBY IN FILM DEBUT

Photographed in a little corner of England's Hollywood, just outside London, England (extreme right) is shown casting a critical eye on a scene in which her husband, Michael Farmer, is acting with Genevieve Tobin before the movie camera. It was Farmer's first experience as an actor and he appears in the picture as Miss Tobin's husband.

NEW PRESIDENT

J. W. ROSS

of Montreal, who has been elected president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Col. W. L. McGregor, of Windsor, Ontario.

New Moderator Elected

Dr. T. A. Moore Appointed Head Of United Church

Hamilton, Ont.—Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, Toronto, secretary to the general council of the United Church of Canada, was elected third moderator of the church by the general council session here.

The election was contested by Rev. Dr. Richard Roberts, pastor of Sherbourne Street United Church, Toronto, and by Rev. Dr. W. L. Armstrong, Trinity United Church, Toronto.

Secretary to the general council of the church since the union, Rev. Dr. Moore was for many years previously an outstanding figure in the Methodist Church.

A native of Acton, Ont., he began his career as a printer and publisher there. Turning to the ministry he was ordained in 1884 after completing his studies at Wesleyan College, Montreal.

Opens New Museum

Hon. J. F. Bryant Officiates At Ceremony In Prince Albert

Prince Albert.—Hon. J. F. Bryant, Minister of Public Works, officially opened the new Prince Albert historical museum in Bryant Park.

The building which will house the historical relics is one of the first structures to have been built here. It was erected by Rev. James Nisbet and members of his party who landed here in 1886. For years it stood, gradually rotting away, until last year it was taken down and rebuilt in the park which is named after Mr. Bryant's father, a former resident here.

Train Schedule Now Eliminates Long Stop

C.N.R. Continental Limited Has No Lay-Over At Winnipeg

Montreal, Que.—Eliminating the present 10-hour lay-over at Winnipeg, the new schedule of the Continental Limited between Montreal and Vancouver became effective with the departure of that train from Montreal and Toronto on the night of Friday, Sept. 30. It was announced by the Canadian National Railways.

The new schedule became effective eastbound from Vancouver on Saturday, October 1, and eliminates a 10-hour lay-over at Winnipeg.

Student Flyer's Death Caused By Accident

Parachute Used By Winthrop Property Packed Staged Instructor

North Battleford.—After brief deliberation, the jury inquiring into the death of Charles J. Winthrop, Wilkie flying student, who crashed to his death when his parachute failed to open, returned a verdict of accidental death. No riders were included in the verdict.

Chief evidence was heard from George Bennett, R.C.A.P., instructor who has been instructing flying club students in the art of parachuting.

Bennett told the court he had made 1,008 jumps during his career and in only one instance had it been necessary to use the emergency chute. He had trained between 350 to 400 students, he stated, who voiced the opinion that Winthrop had taken off the wing of the plane in a somewhat awkward manner and had become entangled in the harness, causing the chute to stay closed. He stated definitely that the parachute was properly packed.

New Gold Find Reported

Engineers Consider Discovery In Beaver Lake District Important

The Pas, Man.—What engineers consider an important new gold discovery is reported to have been made in the Beaver Lake district of northern Saskatchewan, just over the Manitoba border, west of here.

Samples of quartz porphyry reaching into the heavy in gold, and 40 men are already working in the neighborhood with prospects of continuing the work throughout the fall and winter.

ELEVEN MEMBERS RESIGN FROM BRITISH CABINET

London, England.—Denouncing the whole policy of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa as "imperiling the unity of the Empire," three cabinet ministers and eight other ministers resigned from the national government.

"To bring these trade questions into the forefront of the political field is to invite disagreements between Empire governments which will likely, sooner or later, become acute," declared the joint letter, in which two Liberal cabinet ministers and eight other Liberal ministers, not members of the cabinet, submitted their resignations.

Viscount Snowden of Icknham, severing 40 years' close association with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, was outspoken in denunciation of the proceedings at Ottawa and the agreements resulting, as he resigned from the cabinet in company with Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary for Scotland.

"I am convinced," Lord Snowden wrote to the prime minister, "that the tariff and imperialist policies which the Tories are carrying through are more dangerous in their permanent effect than the crisis of last year, which was temporary and yielded to drastic treatment."

The places of two of the cabinet ministers were immediately filled as Prime Minister MacDonald sought to retain the non-party character of the government. But the resignations, in effect, meant the removal from the ministry of the entire block of free traders.

Replying to the declarations which accompanied the resignations, the prime minister declared the task of the National government was not yet completed; that it must be completed.

In a statement issued over his name and those of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, dominions' secretary, and Lord Stanley, Lord High Chancellor—National Laborites—Prime Minister MacDonald declared:

"We put our hands to a very big job 12 months ago. The same determination to disregard all ordinary partisan methods which we showed then we show still. The work is not finished and it cannot be finished until, one way or another, there is a reparations and debts settlement, and there is a world economic conference and we must go on till these things are done."

"We make the same appeal to the electors," the Prime Minister added, "as we did 12 months ago—that the nation needs a non-party government, and that purely party considerations would weaken our national influence in the world and would be a blow at the movements now at work towards world recovery."

SCRIPT IDEA HAS PROVED SUCCESS IN ALBERTA TOWN

Calgary, Alberta.—By washing citizens of Raymond to pay off more tax arrears than ever before in the town's history, the bold experiment of the council in issuing script in payment of local indebtedness has been brilliantly vindicated.

Reports show a remarkable increase in tax payments of $11,000, increased business tax receipts of $3,200, higher water collections and improved receipts in all departments.

The town has also been enabled to pay its debentures as they became due. It is now in a position to pay its current borrowings for town finance, and in addition the council has been able to reduce borrowings of 1931 by several thousand dollars.

Faced by acute financial problems at the beginning of the present year the revolutionary step of issuing its own script on the security of the unpaid taxes of the district was undertaken by the council in face of considerable opposition. Warrants were issued in payment by the town to citizens for services of various kinds and tradesmen in the district gave their willing consent to the scheme by accepting the script at its face value.

All the script was guaranteed redeemable in cash on January 15, 1933, or it could be used at any time in payment of rates and taxes.

Good Market In Ontario

Would Buy Alberta Coal If Freight Rate Lower

Ottawa, Ont.—With a $5 freight rate to Ontario, Alberta coal could capture a market of from 300,000 to 400,000 tons more than is now being sold here. This was the contention of Alberta in the hearing before the railway commission.

The hearing was in connection with fixing the out-of-pocket cost to the railways in the coal movement from Alberta to Ontario in 1931. At present the shipper pays a rate of $6.75 a ton and the difference between that and the amount the railways receive is made up by the Dominion Government. The board reserved judgment.

Cruisers Carry Aid To Earthquake Victims

Sufferers In Greece Welcome Food And Medical Supplies

Athens, Greece.—Arrival of five cruisers of the British eastern Mediterranean fleet, bringing food and medical supplies for relief of sufferers from the earthquakes that have shaken Greece, was hailed here with great public demonstrations.

In the meantime the quakes continued and it was feared the casualties would be greater than originally supposed. The number of dead was placed at 200 and the injured at 400. In parts the ground sank eight feet during the main earthquake.

Increase In Deportations

To Countries Other Than British Empire And United States

Ottawa, Ont.—During the fiscal year 1931-1932 which ended March 31, 1932, the number of deportations from Canada to countries other than the British Empire or the United States increased over those of the preceding year by 152 per cent. A more moderate jump of 37 per cent in the number of British deportations was recorded. Of the total deportations, numbering 7,025 in the last fiscal year, no fewer than 4,507 of those deported were sent out of Canada because they became public charges.

Supporting Premier Toinie

Victoria, B.C.—Nanaimo Conservative Association is the latest branch of government supporters to approve of Premier Toinie's stand in favor of union government. Since the premier was criticized and asked to resign by a number of local Conservative bodies in Vancouver, several organizations in the province have rallied to his support.

More Telegraph Business

Montreal, Que.—An increase of 17 per cent in messages carried during the last two weeks of August, compared with the first two weeks of the same month, is reported by the Canadian National Telegraphs. Telegraph communications are regarded as the "nerve centre of commerce" and the report is taken as being a sign of improvement.

Sterling Cast—A group of outstanding players support Miss Shearer in "A Free Soul," at Cole's theatre, for Friday and Saturday. Leslie Howard is seen as a millionaire sportman; Lionel Barrymore deers direction for another strong acting role as the heroine's drunken father;
 Clark Gable plays the gambler,
 James Gleason the comic bodyguard and Lucy Beaumont the aristocratic grandmother.

Canada has a religious sect so small, the recent census reveals, that it has not been calculated separately.
 Its members are known as the Tunkers and they live a very severe life.
 Men and women dwell apart; marriage is forbidden and they are strict vegetarians. There are also Tunkers in the United States, but there they are called Dunkers and sometimes Dunkards or Dippers. The sect was founded in Germany in 1708 by Alexander Mack, but fled from persecution to the United States in 1720. They settled at Ephrata, near Philadelphia, but later spread westward.

Mr. Roberts, income tax inspector, is in town today from Lethbridge.

Mr. F. E. Harrison, provincial fair wage commissioner, was in The Pass last week end.

Remember the Thanksgiving dance to be held in the Columbus hall on Monday night next.

NOW IS THE TIME to put your furnace and plumbing in shape for winter. See CHAS. HOWE.

Mrs. Reginald Campbell (nee Miss Mamie Boyd), of Lethbridge, was a visitor here the early part of the week.

The Bellevue Boy Scouts will hold a whist drive and dance in the Odd-fellows' hall at Bellevue on Friday night of next week.

At a country church recently, the preacher took as his subject: "Is Liquor Desirable?" The choir then sang: "O Taste and See."

John Anderson, of Coleman, was convicted of aggravated assault upon Rock Sudworth, and was fined $50 and costs in the police court here.

FOR SALE—1928 Chevrolet in good condition, at a snap—$200.
 Also a Philco Radio, in real good order, at a bargain. Apply to The Enterprise. [1-f.]

There will be a whist drive and draw in St. Luke's hall, Blaimore, on Wednesday, October 19th, at 8 p.m. Admission 25 cents. Refreshments will be served.

The local vendor store was entered by some party, so far unknown, and as far as could be ascertained, around $600 worth of liquor was taken.

A whist drive and dance, under the auspices of the Boy Scouts, will be held in the Oddfellows' hall at Bellevue on the night of Friday, October the 14th. Cards at 8, dancing at 11.

A party of fifty blind children from Alberta and Saskatchewan left recently to join the school for the blind at Brantford, Ontario. Miss Tina Howe, of Blaimore, was one of the number.

A deputation of miners, headed by Harvey Murphy, waited upon the town council on Monday night. The minor items in their appeal included free light, water, fuel, clothing and food for the unemployed.

Owing to holiday Monday, the regular meeting of Crows' Nest Chapter
 I.O.O.F. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Warner, on Tuesday evening, October 11th, at 7.30. All members are requested to attend.

John Stokluk, of Coleman, secretary of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada, was treated to a few facial abrasions while attending a stormy meeting at Wayne. We understand he hopes to bring the "souvenir" back to Russia.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. S. Simister wishes, through The Enterprise, to thank all those who assisted her during her little daughter's illness.
